

General News Notes From Various Points

It is rumored that a naval battle was fought near Aland Islands. Sailors report that a large German cruiser was sunk, probably by a torpedo.

The closing of all bars in Winnipeg during the winter is confidently anticipated by the military authorities according to a statement by an officer at the headquarters staff.

James Keir Hardie died of pneumonia in a nursing home at Glasgow last Sunday. He was a Labor member in parliament and the leader of the peace element in the British Socialist party.

Every male German, Turk and Austrian of military age in London, who has been granted exemption, will be required to surrender to the police. Austrians under 51 years of age, and Germans under 45 years, will be interned.

Thomas St. John Gifford, American consul general at Munich, Germany, has been asked to resign his post because of partisan utterances on the European war. The consul general is understood to have made statements reflecting on the president's policy.

The Bulgarian government officially communicated to the powers a note stating in the most categorical fashion that the mobilization of the Bulgarian army was ordered in the national interest, and that it had not the slightest offensive character.

Ambassador Penfield of Vienna has been instructed to make clear to the Austrian government informally that the United States must insist upon the recall of Dr. Dumba, the Austrian ambassador, and that his departure "on leave of absence" would not be satisfactory.

The latest semi-official notice which the press received of the strength of the Germans in the west placed their numbers at 1,800,000 men or thereabouts. There is no serious reason to dispute these figures, although some nine German divisions have been drafted to the east during the last few months.

Russian and British submarines have driven all the German battleships and cruisers back into Kiel from the eastern Baltic. The Molke, which was torpedoed several weeks ago, was towed into Kiel with a huge hole in her hull.

A correspondent on the German border writes that General von Hindenburg was quoted as saying the other day, "I will win as many battles as you like against the Russians, but I never shall be able to defeat their entire army."

Paris breathed a sigh of relief when it was announced that the gates in the Champagne region has been saved and even extended. The hard fighting seems to have taken place near the village of Auberive, about 19 miles south of Chalons and the same distance east of Rheims.

Thomas B. Hoeller, the British charge d'affaires in Mexico City, sailed last night for Havana. From Havana he will proceed to Washington by way of Key West to confer with Sir Cecil Spring-Rice, the British ambassador at Washington, and also will render a report to the ambassador on Mexican affairs. Mr. Hoeller said he expected to be away only a few weeks.

The Austrian 18-year-old landsturm class has been ordered to join the army on October 15; according to a dispatch from Vienna. Other classes including the ages of 19, 20, 24, and from 38-45, will be summoned to the colors the middle of November. The oldest classes, from 43 to 50 years, will be called out at the end of November.

Will Take Census In West Next June

A census of population and agriculture will be taken in the northwestern provinces next June. The census is a quinquennial one provided by statute and is made necessary from the fact that provincial subsidies are paid on per capita basis. A review of the population figures thus becoming necessary every five years.

About 2,600 enumerators will be utilized for the census which will include agriculture, and the established cost will be $250,000. It is understood men about at the front will be included in the census totals.

Russians and Italians Are Gaining Ground

Some of the fiercest fighting of the campaign is in progress on the Russian front. The Germans continue with poor success their furious attacks in an effort to drive the Russians out of Dvinsk, while in Volynia and Galicia the Russians continue to harass the Austro-Germans who had designs on Kiev, from which town they are now further away than they were a few weeks ago.

Gen. Ryanoff apparently is determined to hold back the Austro-Germans, and his efforts are meeting with a considerable measure of success. The fortress triangle, which includes Dubno, Kovel and Lutsk, is almost entirely in the possession of the Russians.

In Galicia the Austrians have been driven back across the rivers which run parallel to the border.

The Italians, like the rest of the allies, report a number of successes in taking fortified mountains from the Austrians.

Arrangements Made for $500,000,000

An agreement between the Anglo-French financial commission and the American bankers with whom they have been conferring over the proposed credit loan to Great Britain and France, has resulted in the formation of a definite plan, officially announced for the establishment of a $500,000,000 loan issue on five-year, five per cent, joint British and French bonds, payable jointly and severally by the two nations upon which the big loan will be a first lien.

The bonds will be issued to the public 2½ per cent to the investors and to the syndicate of bankers, which will subscribe to the loan at 96. The formation of the syndicate has been left to J. P. Morgan & Company and a "large group of American bankers and financial houses."

The bonds will be issued in denominations as low as $100, and the subscribers therefore may pay by installments. As maturity the bonds will be payable in cash or in convertible 4½ per cent joint Anglo-French bonds, redeemable for 10 to 20 years thereafter by the two governments jointly and severally.

A RECIPROCITY ECHO HEARD ABOVE WAR DIN

Canadian Correspondent of Boston "Papers Returns to Old Theme—Sinks of 'Protected Crafters'."

The Boston "Transcript" recently contained an article by Mr. E. W. Thornton, their Canadian correspondent, who revived the arguments in favor of reciprocity between Canada and United States, and stated that the reason for the adoption of a trade agreement would be the compelling after the war than before.

The "Toronto News" the other day dealt with Mr. Thomson's arguments as follows:—

During the discussion in 1911 Mr. Thomson told the Transcript with extravagant laudation of the reciprocal trade proposals. He became violent whenever protection was mentioned. The determination of Canada to make other arrangements than those approved by Mr. Thomson, who regarded himself as a sort of Consulting Physician, appointed to watch over the body politic, stirred him to disputation.

He began by declaring that a higher tariff was expected by the "grafting manufacturers here" and that they would be disappointed. The need for cheap manufactured goods would arise after the war and these would not be secured "from our protected crafters." Mr. Thomson in the course of his argument (which is no more than his own), intimated that the tariff increase compelled by the war were demanded by the manufacturers. He said, in his polished manner: "These men impudently clamored for and obtained from the British Government 7½ per cent more than last winter. They persist in maintaining prices as high as the tariff permits. They have alienated the general public by so evincing new selfishness in wartime; by bowling that patriotic resolve Canadians to buy 'Made-in-Canada' junk, etc., etc."

Thirty years ago, perhaps, some "Made-in-Canada" goods were made. No man of experience says that today. Mr. Thomson will not get far in the demand for Canadianization by reviling Canadian factories and Canadian workers and by undertaking a campaign of studied falsification. Our relations with the United States have always been complicated by the activities of foolish individuals. The anti-imperialist argument was placed before the American people incessantly during the campaign of 1911 by a corps of correspondents, situated more or less loosely to the Liberal party. Of these few remain to give tongue. But Mr. Thomson continues to misrepresent the people of Canada. He assumes that our electors are the private property of the manufacturers, retainers of a band of robber-baron.

LOST AND STRAYED

During the fiscal year 1914 something like $3,000,000 worth of rubber goods, including tires of all kinds, belting, fire hose and other rubber products were imported into Canada. The buying abroad of this great amount of rubber goods is nothing but self-deception. The rubber goods industry in Canada has reached a state of excellence that no other country can surpass. There is no more need for a Canada to purchase rubber goods of the kind indicated above in a foreign country than there is to buy foreign wheat. Both commodities are produced in Canada equal in quality to anything produced elsewhere. Next time you are in market for something in rubber goods see to it that you buy the products of any one of Canada's dozen first-class Canadian factories. The greater part of the money you spend will be turned over by the manufacturer to his employees in the form of wages that will be spent by them, and through various channels find its way back to you. Keep wheel of prosperity turning on rubber tires "Made-in-Canada."

FRIENDSHIP, NOT HATRED

One of the most important events of the past year was the sympathetic understanding which was reached between farmers and manufacturers. In discussing this, Canadian Farm, a weekly agricultural journal published in Toronto, says:

"The farm" is not inherently antagonistic to the manufacturing interests. While the basic industry in Canada is agriculture, the one is largely the complement of the other. The farmer is dependent upon the manufacturer for a large share of the equipment necessary to successfully carry on his farming operations. On the other hand, the business of the manufacturer could make little progress without a prosperous farming community and increased production from the land.

"The relations between the farmer and the manufacturer, instead of being antagonistic, should be of the most friendly character. To bring about more intimate relations and greater co-operative effort there must be give and take on both sides."

Chas. Oakland, who has been around Redcliff for the past month, left last night for the training camp at Sarcee.

Ray Chapman, who has been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Sherrin here for the past two weeks, returned to Minneapolis last Monday.

Look at the label on your paper and see how you stand. The first figures tell you the month, the second the day of the month and the third the year.

Angus Wenzel, a German farmer living near Swift Current, was fined $5.00 and costs for cutting grain on Sunday in contravention of the Lord's Day act.

A hundred good men in 10 days is the basis of a whirlwind campaign that Capt. R. B. Eaton, M. L. A., is about to launch in all the ranks of the 50th battalion.

Part of the proceeds from the entertainment given by the 50th battalion on Monday, Oct. 11, goes to the Red Cross society and through them to the boys who are fighting the country's battles. Let nothing, therefore, interfere with your being present on that occasion.

W. J. Fairbairn received word last Monday that his son who is on the Merchant's Bank staff at Cardiff, S. Wales, with an accident while out shooting. The letter states that he had his hand shot off and that he had badly. Mr. Fairbairn does not think it can be very serious as his son is still at work.

Private Bonner, of the famous fighting British, passed through here last Sunday on his way home to Calgary from the front. He was met at the station here by a number of local old lads of this district and to them Bonner gave an interesting account of his experiences at the front. He was wounded six times and his lungs are still affected by the poisonous gas used by the Germans. In returning to Canada he was on the ill-fated "Esperanza" which was sunk.

In a recent list of Canadian casualties appear the name of Lieut. J. N. Scott, and in a letter received today by D. R. Reem from a friend in Ontario, the writer states that this is Jimmy Scott, formerly of the Glass factory staff here. We have inquired from many of his friends in town but have been unable to confirm this news as none of his acquaintances here were aware that he had joined the army. Jimmy has a host of friends here, all of whom sincerely hope the name mentioned in the casualty list is not meant for him.

Second Contingent Now in the Trenches

Word has been received at Ottawa that the second Canadian contingent in the trenches on that part of the front which is being held by the Canadians. The second Canadian contingent reached France July 17th, little time ago so that there has been little delay in giving them an important role in the battle line. The first division veterans of Ypres and Passchendaele are evidently, from this information, acting as reserve for the present.

New Recruiting Plan by Hughes

Mal-Gee, Sir Sam Hughes announced that he is considering a new plan for recruiting this winter, to have the young men in small centers, a better opportunity. The minister first pointed out that the original call for 20,000 men. This was increased to 30,000, 75,000, 110,000 and finally to 150,000 men. These have been practically all raised, the minister in the latter part of the year. If authorization is given to increase this number, the minister stated, more attention will be paid to the past to the towns and villages of Canada. If 20 men or more volunteer in a village or small community, they will be trained and billeted in that locality throughout the winter. In villages and towns of 1,000 over 50 men will have to volunteer before arrangements are made for them to be trained and billeted at home.

Heavy Toll of Human Life in Past Week

In the last seven days the war has taken a heavier toll of human life than in any previous period. Careful calculations show that not less than 10,000 men have been killed, wounded or taken prisoners, 10,000 miles of battle line, that is, on the west front from Belgium to Switzerland; in Italy, from Trent to Trieste; on the eastern front along the Danube on the Balkan peninsula; along the Caucasus mountains and from Bukovina to the Baltic.

Canadian Woolen Mills Get Big Order

Canadian woolen mills are working on a huge order from the Italian government, according to it is for 100,000 blankets and 600,000 woolen shirts. The order was placed through the Italian commission in London and was obtained through the sewing of a personal representative to England by the Canadian mills. The contract is worth a million dollars and the department of trade and commerce has undertaken the inspection of the goods.
